

2015 Yonex Canada Open Coaches Summit

Susan Massitti

Susan Massitti is passionate about empowering people to connect to themselves to achieve optimal health, function and performance. Her expertise has helped Olympic and recreational athletes, as well as empowered many to find their inner strength.

Susan competed in the 1998 Nagano Winter Olympics in long track speed skating. Susan has worked at a multitude of international sporting events, including three Summer Olympics, two Winter Olympics (including the first ever 2012 Youth Winter Olympics) as well as numerous World Championships.

Susan graduated from the University of Queensland in Australia with a Clinical Masters and is continually learning. Susan instructs at the Canadian Sport Institute and teaches post graduate physical therapy courses across Canada.

Susan is also a certified mom who enjoys keeping up with her two boys with her husband.
